Rescued From Death.
William J. Douglas, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1878 I was taken with a severe cold, cough, and asthma, and was confined to my bed. In 1879 I was admitted to the Hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I bought a bottle, and when I took it I felt better than I had in years. I wrote this hoping some one afflicted with Diphtheria, Lungs, or any other disease, would take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I can positively say it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness."

LITERARY NOTE.

Our Continent begins its second volume with a change of form, and will appear hereafter as a 32-page quarto, a shape much better adapted to the magazine character of the publication and for the display of fine illustrations than was the larger page previously used. The literary contents are not diminished, for the pages, while they are reduced to one-half the former size, are doubled in number. Indeed, the amount of reading matter is rather increased, for the advertisements are now printed separately, in addition to the full 32 pages of matter. The cover is restored, and the publication now appears as a handsome magazine, a trifle larger than the monthlies, and containing in its fifty-two numbers annually about one-third more matter than the largest of them. It looks now like what its conductors say they propose to offer to the public: "An illustrated magazine on the instalment plan, with serial stories coming once a week instead of once a month, contents and illustrations to be furnished by the best available talent the country affords."

The first number in the new form is noteworthy as containing the first instalment of Judge Tourgee's new story, "Hot Plover," which opens with a most interesting picture of country life in New York State thirty-five years ago. Among other prominent features are the continuation of Julian Hawthorne's "Dust," E. C. Gardner's amusing and eccentric "House that Jill Built," a curious "Alaska Legend," telling of the mummies found in that remote corner of the New World; and "The Better Soldier," in which a Union Veteran discusses the qualities of the Northern and the Southern soldier in the civil war, in a way that shows a due appreciation of the valor of his late foes, whose prowess he however analyzes in a novel manner.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Those morbidly curious people who attend theaters and circuses for the sole purpose of some time seeing a trapeze performer killed, may congratulate themselves now upon a wider field of danger, and more chances for fatal accidents. The other day a young gymnast, and contortionist performing the common feat of putting both feet back of his neck, and the act suddenly straightened him out, and he was hurled in the usual position.

The Milwaukee and Lake Winnebago Railway Company has filed with the Secretary of State of Wisconsin a mortgage for $1,950,000, covering sixty-five miles of road from Schlusserville, north to Neenah, via Fond du Lac and Oshkosh. The mortgage is given to secure gold bonds of two series, the first series aggregating $1,400,000, to bear 6 per cent. interest, and the second, amounting to $550,000, being income mortgage bonds bearing 5 per cent. interest.

Statistics have been published by the French Department of Public Works relative to the planting of trees along the high-roads of the country. The total length of the Routes Nationales is 39,938,136 metres, of which 23,731,928 metres may be bordered with trees. Of this distance 14,345,311 metres are planted, while 9,396,617 metres remain to be done. The number of trees used to form the welcome avenues is 2,691,699.

The Court of Appeals in New York has just announced a decision which will interest the members of the various commercial exchanges of that city. The decision is that seats in these bodies are to be regarded as property, and are subject to sale to pay the debts of those who hold them. The question, finally decided by the Court of last resort, has occasioned a vast deal of discussion in that city.

The orange and lemon crop of Southern California will be large this year.

No change in the strike of the Longshoremen and freight handlers.

TO-DAY'S NEWS

Press Dispatches to EVENING GAZETTE.

EASTERN.

Congressional-Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 9.

The Senate, in perfecting the river and harbor bill yesterday, refused to agree to a provision authorizing the Secretary of War to expend the appropriation of $150,000 made by the Act of 1879 for a harbor of refuge on the Pacific coast, in the construction of a harbor at Port Oxford. On the debate on the proposition it was stated by Senator McMillan that the Board of Engineers appointed to locate the harbor of refuge had not determined to locate at Port Oxford; in fact did not agree to the necessity of such harbor. Senator Grover of Oregon, and Miller of California, urged the agreement to the amendment setting forth the necessity of a harbor of refuge, but the proposition was finally voted down.

HOUSE.

Among the items agreed upon in the Sundry Civil Bill yesterday were the following: For the Benicia arsenal, for the completion of the machine and armories shop and rebuilding of the blacksmith shop and carpenter shop $50,000; for the purchase of one steam engine $5,600. To complete repairs on the wharf $8,000. Representative Berry endeavored to have the Appropriation bill for an arsenal increased to $60,000, but failed.

Artisan Wells in Colorado.

NEW YORK, July 9.

The Sunday Tribune says: The possibility of reclaiming for cultivation the vast area of land on this side of the Rocky Mountains becomes a question of greater interest every year, as our fertile acres are rapidly being taken up. The latest information on the subject is not encouraging. A commission was sent out last summer under an act of Congress to examine this country to see if it would be possible to irrigate it by means of artesian wells. The commission does not speak with confidence of the prospect of supplying water in great quantities anywhere in the region of the Colorado which they examined. They recommend, however, that trial wells shall be sunk in the most promising places. The experiment will be watched with interest.

Murder in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 10.

At 8 o'clock this morning Charles L. Stiles, for many years caller in the Call Board and well known in the Board of Trade circles, was shot just over the heart and instantly killed, by a young woman of doubtful reputation, who passed under the name of Madeline Stiles. She obtained access to his room, when a quarrel ensued, which resulted in his death. The woman claims that Stiles, who had for some time been on terms of intimacy with her, had made her life unbearable by his dissolute habits and cruelty, and that she had determined to leave him, and her announcement of this fact precipitated the quarrel of this morning.

A Horrible Murder.

CHICAGO, July 9.

About 1 o'clock this morning Joel Prescott, an old and respected citizen, was found lying in the doorway in the basement at the rear of his bathing house, on Desplaines street, with his brains beaten out by some blunt instrument and his pockets turned inside out. He was still alive, but died soon afterward. The object was evidently robbery, but the murderer got nothing, as it was subsequently discovered he had placed a considerable sum of money and his watch in a secret place. Four persons have been arrested, but apparently with little evidence against them.

Foolish Gossip.

NEW YORK, July 10.

The New York Times is certain that fly gabblers in Washington have given circulation to the story that Don Cameron and his men are seriously considering the proposition to sell their candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania for 30,000 votes. The votes are to be given to Beaver by Land Leaguers of Pennsylvania, and the price to be paid is the recall of Minister Lowell.

The Swimmers.
Yesterday afternoon twenty young men went up the river for a swimming match. Upon their arrival, finding the spring-board out of order, John Wolf, leader of the late Athletic Club here, fixed the spring up in first-class style. It threw the body of the swimmer twice as high as the former board, and some of the swimmers turned triple somersaults before touching the water. Extraordinary exhibitions of skill and endurance were given, some of the smallest boys swimming under water like water rats, and just as the alarmed spectator surely imagined they were suffocated, they would emerge a hundred feet away, like so many corks. The river bank in the neighborhood of the grounds is extremely favorable to the formation of a first-class swimming rendezvous, and were the hundreds of men and youths who daily swim there, to take steps to organize and improve the place, it would prove an attraction to hundreds of others.
A Dangerous Tenant.
Last Christmas while Mrs. Mary Brown, wife of H. P. Brown of the Nevada Market, was arranging the Christmas tree for her children, she ran a needle in her hand and a part of it remained. She did not know how much broke off, but it gave her trouble at times and she felt it traveling around. It passed around outside her thumb and came to the surface last Tuesday, when she pulled it out. It was the big end of the needle, fully an inch in length, and was a dark blue color. It was in the hand five months and 23 days.

AT THE ASYLUM.

Leave from a "Gazette" Reporter's Note Book—How the Insane Are Treated in Their New Home.
A visit to the Insane Asylum will convince the taxpayers of Nevada that they have made a great mistake in allowing the insane patients to remain in Langdon & Clark's "crazy pen" so many years. The unfortunate beings have occupied the new building for 10 days, and if they continue to improve for the next two months as rapidly as they have since their arrival home the number will be reduced 80 per cent. The reason for so great an improvement in so short a time can be accounted for in several ways. First, the building is well arranged for their comfort; the rooms are all large, light and well ventilated, each room having a window admitting sunshine for several hours every day. Second, the food furnished is of good quality and nicely prepared, and every meal is relished by the patients. Third, the change of climate from Stockton to Reno seems to have been of great benefit to them. Fourth, there being only 150 patients, Dr. Dawson and his assistants have time to give every one all the attention required. Dr. Clark had so many to look after that it would seem from the complaints made by the more rational ones among the number that they were perhaps too often neglected, on to say the least, did not have as good care as they are having now.
Dr. Dawson is proving himself to be the "right man in the right place." He seems to understand each individual case thoroughly, and has every department of the institution well in hand. Nothing escapes his attention. Mr. Martin, the supervisor, has charge of the office and clerical part of the business, and makes himself generally useful in looking after matters in every department. Dr. Dawson has been exceedingly fortunate in the selection of his officers, and in Mrs. A. B. Walker, the matron, he has one of the most valuable assistants. She manages the female department with great ability, and has everything in perfect order. Her patients are watched and cared for as systematically and intelligently as those in any similar institution in America. She is respected and loved by all the poor creatures under her charge. Mrs. Walker is ably assisted by four attendants, who seem to manifest the same deep interest noticed in their superiors.
IN THE FEMALE WARD.
Are many interesting phases of insanity. One poor creature seems to have lost every spark of reasoning power, and spends her time throwing herself about on the floor. While in conversation with Mrs. Walker and a GAZETTE reporter yesterday she suddenly darted to the west end of her ward, and throwing herself at full length on the floor and gathering her skirts about her ankles, she turned a back hand-spring that would have made Charley Fish, the athlete, wish he had taken a few more lessons before he had declared himself the champion. Another poor creature was anxious to show her skill as a ballet girl, and amused herself and others by her strange and crazy frocks. A young German woman seemed to be in a river of happiness fondling a green and white paper baby. She would sing to her flimsy plaything with considerable feeling, while others in the ward would join in, each singing a different song. One of them gave a crazy selection of "Baby Mine." It occurred to the reporter that she, perhaps, was the author of that well-worn ditty and composed it in one of her craziest moments. Another patient, of African descent, heard the reporter ask Mrs. Walker how many patients the ward contained, when she volunteered the information by saying: "Don't yer count dis chile in dar. I doesn't want ter be reckoned in wid de balance o' dem trash. I want yer to understand I'm a clean-cut American." Another of the patients, a half-witted woman, who did not have far to go when she went insane, stands with her back to the wall kissing her hands all day long. One old lady, a Mrs. Kettle, past 60 years of age, who has spent the last 15 years of her life in an asylum, and seems to be quite rational and intelligent, speaks in the highest terms of her new home. She seems perfectly contented and satisfied with her lot in life. She has been engaged on a piece of fancy work since she arrived, the first work of the kind done in the building, and shows considerable skill in handling the needle. One word from Mrs. Walker is sufficient to quiet any of them when in their noisiest moments.
Every room and the corridors are as white and clean as can be, and the patients all look as neat as could be expected. Cleanliness is the hobby of those in charge. The women are provided with books and papers and are allowed the use of the corridors and a large assembly chamber or day room, provided with tables and comfortable seats. At 7 o'clock they go to their rooms and at 8 p. m. prepare for bed. Their clothing is taken from them when they retire and returned when they are called up in the morning.
THE MALE DEPARTMENT.
Commissioner Aas Dawson invited the reporter into the large recreation yard on the east side of the building, where all the male patients allowed to be out are confined. To see over a hundred wild men, with no two of the same mind, confined in so small a place, is a novel sight, quite interesting, but painful to behold. Some howl like a dog, others bray like a jackass, while some cry, others laugh, pray, curse, sleep, dance, fight, run, jump, roll over on the ground, and a thousand and one other things. Joe Lefevre, who killed Jailer Gregory in Virginia over ten years ago, while confined in the Storey County Jail for the murder of a woodchopper near Washoe City, is here confined. He was sentenced to eight years in the Nevada Penitentiary, and for four years of that time was chained to a ring in the bottom of his stone cell, a raving maniac. At the expiration of his term he was committed to Stockton, and has since been in the asylum. His hands are strapped to his side, and when he talks at all, it is in an incoherent strain of murderous threats. He wants to wade in gore, and nothing short of being granted the privilege of killing some human being would satisfy him. He paces back and fro in a narrow recess, at a rapid gait, never stopping, but is as restless as a caged lion. Another demented creature imagines his head is loose, and that he cannot hold it still, and jerks it about like a man riding in a gig. One fellow, committed from Carson last week, devoted himself to running back and forth. He runs like a deer, without any apparent object in view. Johnny Gates, sent to the State Prison for life for killing a man at Hamilton, and was pardoned out on the grounds of insanity, is still in the Asylum. "Crazy John," sent from this county two years ago, is about the same old crank, with no great improvement in his mental condition.

A hive of bees have swarmed under the eaves of the building, and occasionally make it interesting for some of the poor fellows. Yesterday one of the patients caught a bee, and taking it by the wings, talked to it like a father to his son for a few minutes, and then ate it.
THE BILL OF FARE.
They all know their places at the table, and at 7:30 the gong sounds for breakfast, when they are taken from the wards to the dining room, where much and milk and coffee one day, cracked wheat the next and oatmeal the next is furnished. For dinner boiled meats with bread, beans, potatoes, milk and bread pudding is served on Monday; Tuesday and Sunday, stewed mutton, vegetables and milk; Wednesday and Saturday, roast meats, bread, beans, potatoes and coffee; Thursday the same as Tuesday, and Friday, fish, bread, butter, coffee, etc. They are furnished with a light supper, consisting of bread and butter, ginger cake and apple-sauce, with tea or milk. After breakfast Dr. Dawson visits the several wards, writes his prescriptions, and orders anything as a special diet required. At 8 o'clock the male patients are turned into the recreation grounds, and there remain until 11:30 when they are returned to the ward to prepare for dinner. At 1 o'clock P. M. Dr. Dawson makes another visit to all requiring special attention, and the same in the evening. Each attendant is furnished with a blank every morning, which he fills out, showing the number of the ward, number of patients, number sick, number taking medicine, number wet and dirty day and night, number wearing wristlets, number wearing muffs, and how and where employed. This is handed to the Supervisor, who, after receiving reports from all the ward attendants, makes up a general daily summary for the Superintendent. Dr. Dawson makes his monthly report to the Commissioners from these reports. Three patients have been received and two discharged since the 1st, and the Doctor contemplates discharging five more this week. It will repay taxpayers to visit the Asylum and convince themselves that the last Legislature did a wise thing in providing for their maintenance at home.

Mackay Underground.
The Enterprise says: J. W. Mackay yesterday afternoon took a trip through the lower levels in company with Superintendent Patton, going down the Union shaft and coming out through the C. & C. shaft. Although he only arrived here night before last at 12 o'clock, and though it has been about one year and a half since he was underground, he was in the lower levels nearly all the afternoon, and came out looking as fresh as though he had spent the time on the surface seated in an easy chair in the shade. He found a great many new highways and byways in the underground regions, for a vast deal of work has been done on the lower levels of the north end mines since he last passed through them. He seems well pleased with the outlook.

Shot at by a Burglar.
The Carson Tribune of last evening says: Last night Ed. Murphy, son of Attorney-General Murphy, arrived at the family residence between 10 and 11 o'clock. The folks had gone to bed and Ed. retired to his room as noiselessly as he could. He then went to the kitchen for a glass of water and saw a man in the dining room. The burglar on seeing the young man fired a pistol at him, and in the confusion caused by the shot got away from the house. Ed.'s shirt sleeve was perforated by the bullet, which passed upwards to the ceiling of the next floor. No clue has yet been obtained as to who the fellow is, but there are several back street strollers in Carson at present.

Churchill News.
Warren Williams, County Commissioner of Churchill county, is here on a visit and reports that Gold Park in Nye county has temporarily shut down. The ore in the district is rich and plenty, but the great obstacle lay in the want of a better process of working the ore.
Bernice District, Churchill county, twenty-five miles north of Olan Alpine, is doing well with prospects of soon having a mill—the ore assaying up into the thousands.
Mr. Williams is a partner of Senator Kaiser of Churchill and has just finished shearing fifty-two hundred head of sheep. The political pot of Churchill, he reports as bubbling lively—the principal office in the contest is the Sheriff's, and Chippis is likely to stand the best show.

Help Yourself.
The Finance Committee of the Agricultural Society will begin canvassing Reno tomorrow for subscriptions. The success of the coming fair will depend greatly on how liberally the citizens respond to the call. It is to be hoped that the citizens will take interest enough in the matter to assist the Finance Committee in every way possible, thereby making the coming fair an assured success.

A Curious Accident.
Paul Bernhard, bookkeeper of the Wine House, nearly wrenched his head off last night, while turning in bed. He turned rather suddenly, and being a member of the Turners, his head was accordingly left on the other side. A physician was called in who sawed the refractory neck in bandages and in a day or two he will be all right.

Heard From.
The Bodie Free Press says: J. W. E. Townsend, the vivacious local editor of the Reno GAZETTE, arrived in Bodie Friday morning. He says Bodie is the liveliest place he has seen in some time. Mr. Townsend will visit Homer District and take in Sweetwater before returning to Reno.

Blow In.
"Prof." O'Keefe, the stock speculator, at one time very wealthy, blew in from somewhere yesterday. He entertained a large crowd in front of the Palace yesterday. Frank Perkins allowed the "professor" to rope him into a $300 mining speculation a few days ago.

BELL TONGUE SYRUP, AN ACCIDENTAL DISCOVERY OF great value.

An Inestimable Benefit to Mankind.

UNCLE BEN JO'S

CREAT SOUTH AMERICAN PA ACEA.

UNCLE BEN JO was born in Boston in 1803. Being a bachelor, he effected in many wanderings, South America to study botany, and while there accidentally made his great discovery. The natives of this country were quite familiar with it, and had always supposed it to be a poisonous herb, which they used for the purpose of keeping snakes away from their tents or houses. This they did by laying it in a circle about the same at a proper distance off. This herb, Uncle J., as well as the natives, considered a very obnoxious and poisonous one, and when green and fresh it threw off a very distasteful and repulsive odor. The herb grows about two feet high, and about eight inches of the top part of its stalk is leafless, and this part lops over and hangs downward perpendicularly, and from its curved neck to its end it increases in size, and on the end of the same is a large, burly-looking ball, which stalk and ball, in this hanging position, looks precisely like the tongue of a bell. Hence Uncle J. named it the Bell Tongue Plant. In South America this herb is only found in the extreme interior of the country, and the natives there call it "Zarr Neco." It is a wonderful cure of kidney and liver diseases, also, dyspepsia, neuralgia, and rheumatism. We have a whole library full of testimonials. Sold by OSBURN & SHOEMAKER, Reno, Nev.
